COVER

Known by many names to Westerners, some of them uncomplimentary, the coyote is a tricky, elusive target for the hunter (see page 24). E. P. Haddon photographed the coyote on the cover near Kim, Colorado, while in the field for U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

THAT CIRCLE around the date of June 17 on the calendar is just a reminder that Father's Day falls on that date and it's important enough to us (and to you Riflemen, too) to pass up our mail bag questions and answers in this issue and talk about all of the fun and pleasure a good pair of binoculars can give you—and the other members of your family—this summer!

First of all, if you're a Father, there's no reason at all why you shouldn't have some voice in what the family is going to give you on your Day of Days. It's your big day and, my friend, us Dads earn it! If you don't want to come right out in a direct approach and tell the good wife that you'd sure like to have a pair of BUSHNELL'S 7x50's or 7x35's for your very own—you can take a more subtle approach and just clip this ad out, circle the model you want with a red crayon, and leave it under your breakfast plate tomorrow morning. They'll get the hint—fast...

Just decide for yourself which model best fits your individual needs. If you need any help from us (on the selection of the model, that is) just write to me and our Advisory Panel will send you our recommendations by return mail. Or have your family give you a BUSHNELL GIFT CERTIFICATE—good for your selection of any Binocular in that particular price range. Incidentally, BUSHNELL GIFT CERTIFICATES are just grand for all the Graduates and other folks you wish to remember. (Prices of Microscopes, Telescopes, etc. on request.)

Looking at that June calendar sheet also reminds us that a lot of folks really miss more than half of the beautiful scenery on a vacation trip by not taking along a good pair of binoculars. Vacationists drive thousands of miles and spend hundreds of dollars to see the beauties of Nature. Yet few of us stop to realize how MUCH MORE we would see if we would remember to take binoculars along on the trip as well as a camera.

Why not try it this summer... Just another little reminder that the search for new, unusual, different Binocular uses is still on, and that I shall be very happy to send you all a little gift if your use is judged interesting.
