COVER: Easily the most photographed, most interviewed, and most impressive racer at Daytona this year was Bill Elliott. He came to Daytona with a simple goal: win everything. He almost did, as Bob Myers and Bill Von Helmolt detail in their stories this month. Jim Cutler produced the razor-sharp overhead cover photo of Elliott's first pit stop from the photographers' tower on pit row—a popular vantage point considering Elliott's Daytona dominance. Pit stops were also the only time Elliott's velocity was slow enough to permit a really great photo!
