NFL DRAFT PREVIEW: TRUST NO ONE!

ESPN

BONDS VS. THE BABE

UNMAKING THE MYTH

At some point in the near future, someone is going to throw Barry Bonds a strike, and he will rake it with extreme prejudice. When the sphere falls to earth, some people will cheer, some people will have mixed feelings and some people will have mixed feelings while they cheer. And that's because this particular raking will be Bonds' 715th home run, which means he will have passed Babe Ruth. This is a problem.
