

MAY 3, 1993
VOLUME 78, NO. 17

Sports Illustrated

CONTENTS

14

SIGN OF THE TIMES

Baseball idols like accommodating Joltin' Joe have given way to antiheroes like No Way Jose

BY TOM VERDUCCI

22

REBUILDING THE NEST

The Eagles used the draft and a hectic week in the free-agent market to shake up their team

BY PETER KING

30

STANLEY CUP PLAYOFFS

The Sabres' Grant Fuhr and the Blues' Curtis Joseph reached unexpected heights in upset wins

BY JON SCHER

The Canadiens moved to a 3-2 series lead over the Nordiques in the Battle of Quebec

BY E.M. SWIFT

DEPARTMENTS

4

LETTERS

6

FACES IN THE CROWD

9

SCORECARD

56

SPORTS PEOPLE

66

PRO BASKETBALL

74

BASEBALL

94

POINT AFTER

40
UNHAPPY DAYS IN HAPPY VALLEY
As Penn State prepares for Big Ten football, insiders wonder if the alliance has hurt the Lions

BY WILLIAM F. REED

52

A ROAD LESS TAKEN

After enduring years of macho scorn in auto racing, Lyn St. James has her own Indy Car team

BY JILL LIEBER

78

HE'S EVERYWHERE

The Suns' Charles Barkley is celebrated on Phoenix buses, U.S. basketball courts and ads worldwide

BY LEIGH MONTVILLE

COVER PHOTOGRAPH BY AP

Sports Illustrated

Where Have You Gone, Joe DiMaggio?

IN ITS SEARCH
FOR HEROES,
A NATION TURNS
ITS LONELY EYES
TO SPORTS OTHER THAN BASEBALL

#BXBDHKDCARR-RT-SORTRR01
#54871MRT99001C95#6 X5 WI41RE MAY93
COREY MORTENSEN 0002

RT 1 BOX 26
SHELL LAKE

WI 54871-9733

#04544
P00085

MereMart.com®

Vintage Magazines for Special People