Car Craft May 1982 Volume 30 Number 5

18. The reason our lovely model seems so disconcerted is because he's just realized that he's placed these nasty tools on a Teflon-coated cookie sheet without first covering it with aluminum foil to avoid damaging scratches. And he's also realized that his nice frilly apron is probably going to get all nasty and greasy. Well, such are the risks every homemaker takes, eh Jeff?

52. Far be it from us to question this decal spotted on John Guerriero's trick Firebird, a machine built, incidentally, by the book—the CAR CRAFT book. It's comforting to know that our readers can surpass our best efforts with apparent ease, which is certainly the case this time.

66. Poor Frank Bradley. The Winternationals just wasn't his race. After making the program early and then being bumped out, he suffered this incredible rearend failure. On his next pass he had a fire bright enough to light up all of Southern California. It's next time for "Napa Frank," but it's right now for our coverage of this dramatic event.
