LIFE'S PICTURES

In the course of his essay into Hawaii's melting pot (pp. 103-111), Eliot Elisofon gave a Honolulu art exhibit of his photographs as well as of his drawings and water colors specializing in moonlight, coral forms and torsos. Already an expert cook of Russian, French, Spanish, Swedish and Italian food, in Hawaii Elisofon added to his repertory a number of Chinese, Japanese and Hawaiian dishes. These recipes will be included in a book he has in preparation, Food is a Four-Letter Word.

The following list, page by page, shows the source from which each picture in this issue was gathered. Where a single page is indebted to several sources, credit is recorded picture by picture (left to right, top to bottom) and line by line (lines separated by dashes) unless otherwise specified.
