

"A work of superlative fiction."

—Denver Post

"Andrew Taylor's superb, imaginative spin-off from reality, taking the slight event of Edgar Allan Poe's brief stay in London as a schoolboy and turning it into a masterly Gothic thriller."

—Independent
(The Year's Best Historical Books)

"Taylor builds a truly captivating novel, rich with the sounds, smells, and cadences of nineteenth-century England."

—Glasgow Herald
(Books of the Year)

"A moody, delightful Gothic thriller...the period details are pitch perfect."

—Minneapolis Star Tribune

THREE FAULTS

MAY SOUND LIKE PERFECTION,
BUT HERE, IT'S CAUSE FOR ELIMINATION.

Nothing tests the bond between horse and rider like the disciplines of dressage, cross country and show jumping. Three very different events, each requiring one demanding outcome: precision. At this year's Rolex Kentucky Three-Day Event, one of only four four-star events in the world, competitors will have to go to greater heights and lengths just to stay in the running. After three days of hard competition, it's impossible not to respect the ability of the riders, and the other athletes here, the horses. ROLEX KENTUCKY THREE-DAY EVENT, LEXINGTON, KY, APRIL 22ND-25TH, 2004.
