

“Original and brilliant.”
 —Lorrie Moore, author of Birds of America

Running away was easy for the fathers of Maple Rock. Being left behind was another story.

“By deftly welding magic realism with social satire, Bakopoulos captures the dark side of the working-class dream.”
 —Elissa Schappel, The New York Times Book Review

“A beautifully smart, comic, and moving narrative about the fathers who disappear and the sons who take their place.”
 —Charles Baxter, author of The Feast of Love

“Haunting, sorrowful, and full of humanity.”
 —Ann Packer, author of The Dive from Clausen's Pier
