57

THE SUPERSONIC SPY DRONE

58
An unprecedented glimpse into the cloistered world of secret Cold War technology development.

Mired IN TIRES

62
Billions of stockpiled tires will take centuries to degrade. Can new recycling technologies turn these ominous mountains into molehills?

SOFT KILL

66
Disabling but not deadly, a radical breed of nonlethal weapons is emerging as the U.S. military faces new, post-Cold War challenges.

FOSSIL LIFE STYLES

70
A stunning interactive museum exhibit with "touch fossils" is no dull and dusty collection of old bones. Rather, it's the most important and accessible array of fossil mammals that's ever been assembled.

THE MULTIMEDIA HOME OFFICE

72
Everyone knows multimedia is great for games. But that's not all. Snazzy multimedia gear and information-rich software are now transforming the home office into a livelier, more resourceful space.

AUTO TECH 1995 REPACKAGING THE TRUCK

76
But can trucks become more "carlike" without losing the ruggedness and sense of security that made them so appealing in the first place?
