

REED SCHUMANN—REUTERS

Who Started the Waco Fire? The Justice Dept. changes its story (see NATION)

TOM SANDERS—ADVENTURE PHOTO

Thrill of It All: Why he gets his kicks jumping like this over Angel Falls in Venezuela (see COVER)

STEVE LISS FOR TIME

One Smart Chimp: Something is going on in animals' heads (see NATURE)

POLITICAL SCENE: Baltimore's the loser in the race for mayor	8
LETTERS	9
NOTEBOOK	19
CALVIN TRILLIN on those peach-fuzz millionaires	22
MILESTONES	25

NATION

COVER: Go for It!	28
More Americans than ever are going to extremes in sports. And they are taking greater risks in their investments, their careers, sex—everything. Why are they—we—doing it?
Behavior: You can put at least some blame on your ancestors	32
Risk IQ: Seize a pencil and take the test!	36
JUSTICE: The Waco Files	40
Janet Reno admits that the truth is not quite what it seems, and the fallout begins
POLITICS: Grabbing It While They Can	42
Both parties are raking in soft money just when the public revolt against it begins gathering serious support
Donors: Who are the biggest givers to each party?	43
CAMPAIGN 2000: John McCain's Book	44
In a surprisingly good campaign autobiography, the Arizona Senator tells of his life-defining event—in a Vietnamese prison
PUBLIC EYE: Clintons' Role Reversal on Vacation	45
Margaret Carlson on Hurricane Hillary and Bill as "spouse of"
WORLD
PANAMA: The End Is Near	48
As the canal handover approaches, everyone's getting jittery
TURKEY: Living with the Aftershocks	50
Following a bungled relief effort, Turks are more self-reliant
DIPLOMACY: Holbrooke Packs a Bag	51
The new U.S. envoy to the U.N. takes office and heads for Kosovo

BUSINESS

INTERNET: Showing Soon at a Computer Near You	52
Quantum, the first big-budget film to go straight to the Web
Competition: Amazon.com will start selling a movie video	53
TELEMARKETING: Forward Calls	54
A court ruling may put your privacy rights on hold
Busy Signals: How to keep nagging callers off the line	55

SCIENCE AND SOCIETY

NATURE: What Are Animals Thinking?	56
The Parrot's Lament, a new book by TIME contributor Eugene Linden, offers tales of animal intrigue, intelligence and ingenuity
ARCHAEOLOGY: Mummies from the Time of Caesar	62
Newly excavated tombs are revealing secrets of ancient Egypt
SPORT: The Many Faces of Andre Agassi	66
He's been up and down, and once again—at 29—he's the man
Equipment: Under new management, Head racquets are back	66

THE ARTS

FALL PREVIEW: Woody Harrelson on Broadway. Arthur Miller at the opera. Pedro Almodóvar's mother. Rage Against the Machine on social injustice. Our thoughts about all of these and other enticements of the coming season, because after a summer of slumming, autumn is up	68
--	----

PERSONAL TIME

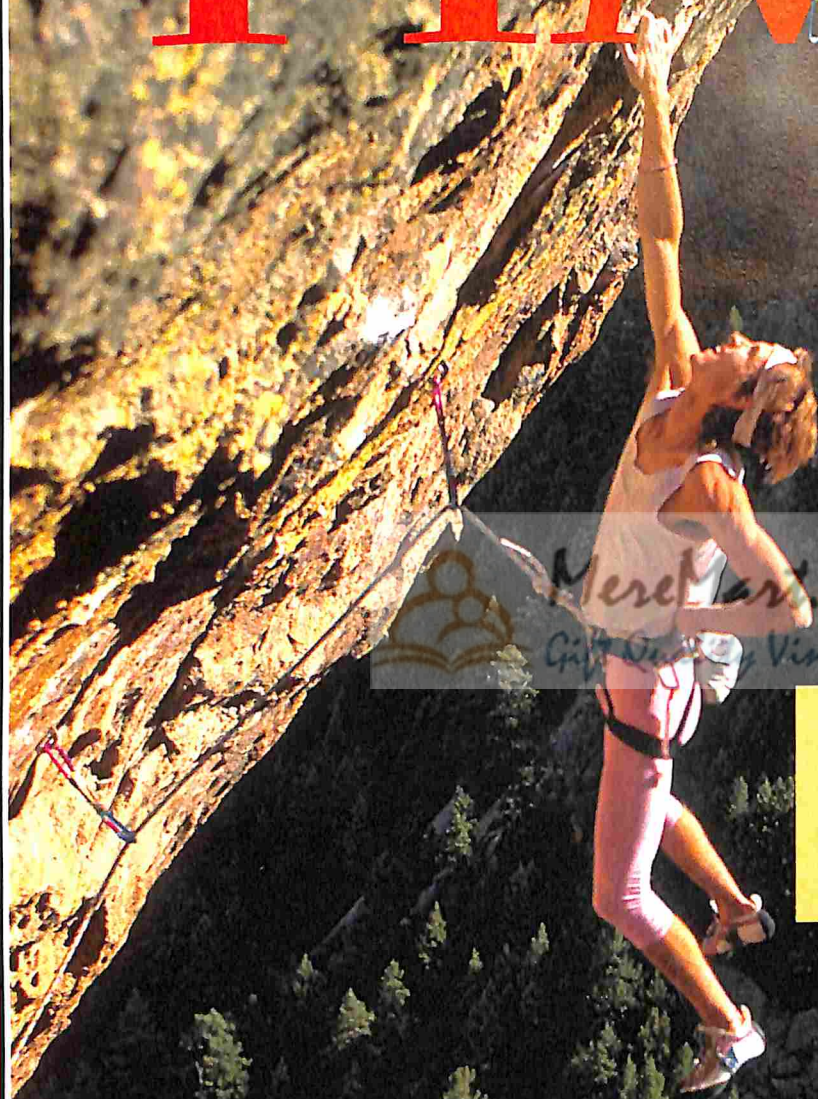

YOUR TECHNOLOGY: Joshua Quittner answers his mail	82
YOUR HEALTH: Dr. Ian Smith charts testicular cancer's rise	85
YOUR FAMILY: Amy Dickinson on kids and moving	86
YOUR MONEY: Daniel Kadlec on three steps and a stumble	88
PEOPLE: Hollywood's tress stress; Fiona Apple is verbose	90
ESSAY: Garrison Keillor on his pleasures of this summer	92

COVER: Photograph by Beth Wald—Network Aspen
INSET: Photograph by Ron Kimball

CAN ANIMALS
THINK?

TIME

WHY
WE TAKE

RISKS

From extreme sports
to day trading,
thrill seeking is becoming more popular. Here's what makes us go for it

#BXBDJLXCARR-RT-SORTC040
#93720WLL01625F93#3 T5 CA24R0 MAR00
FLORENCE I WILLIS 0017
#02469
7625 N 1ST ST APT 177 P00295
FRESNO ,CA 93720-0959