

28 COVER

Is Sustainability the New Luxury?

Recycled, reclaimed or reimagined, old materials like plywood, aluminum and glass take on a new, ecological form

6 Right This Minute

The garden as an earthy delight

9 Notebook

Andy Warhol redux; Tiffany gets Gehry; Bottega in the home; and a look at the history of dining design

12 The A List

Best-selling sunglasses

14 Icon

Puma sneakers' nine-plus lives

16 10 Questions

Activist designer Stella McCartney

18 Navigator

Home-fragrance honcho Harry Slatkin opens his Hong Kong address book

21 The Good Life

An environmentally sensitive home can be both virtuous and beautiful

24 Green Giant

Whole Foods reinvents the supermarket by making organic produce a hot commodity. Plus, green restaurants

34 Into the Woods

More travelers are forsaking five-star trappings in favor of eco-friendly resorts. Also, plant-based skin care that's high tech

38 Who's Who: The Eco-Guide

Fourteen individuals who are reforming the rules of design with sustainable flair

44 Working It

Barry Blitt takes Hollywood off the grid

PAGE 28

REMAKING MODERNISM

Bottleneck and sphere

vases, both of bamboo, by

Mango Leaf (vivavi.com)

MereMart.com

Gift Quality Vintage Magazines

TIME

Style & Design

Green Living

Is Sustainability the New Luxury?

