APRIL 2003 VOL. 10, NO. 4

BONUS!
Catalog
Section
p. 170

Features

- 44 '03 Mach 1 Drag & Dyno Test
The way it runs, maybe they should have called it the Mach 2
- 144 Murphy's Mover
BBK's Mustang project helped pave the path to the road course
- 152 Roller Coaster
Joel Greathouse has seen all the ups and downs of heads-up street-car racing

- Hall Effect
Dennis Hall wanted a one-of-a-kind supercar, and he had it built from a '97 GT
- 500hp 4.6 Showstopper
Any deputy with a built Cobra convertible is a standup guy in our book, so David Timm must be the good cop
- 440hp NA 393ci LX
After leaving his '88 LX alone, Matt Balazs finally supplied it with a 393 stroked Windsor
- 10-Second AOD GT
This '90 GT is Eric Berman's third Mustang, and it's not going anywhere anytime soon
- 280hp Blown V-6
Dan Haga packed plenty of speed into his V-6 Mustang, and he's far from being finished
- 650hp '93 Cobra
Paul Bricker doesn't want you to know what his Cobra runs, but with 600-plus horsepower, we know it runs

5.0 MUSTANG & SUPER FORDS

- 82 Bashing Success
The second-annual Year One Bristol Bash offered something for everyone—and 2003 will only be better

On the Cover: E. John Thawley III forced Dennis Hall to strike the challenging Vomit Comet pose for our main cover image. Meanwhile, we raided Ford's press photos for the famous Mach 1 burnout shot because our real tester was cover-unfriendly black-on-black.
