

CONTENTS - JULY-AUGUST, 1971

America, 1971	Gary Allen	1
Latin America	Harold Lord Varney	19
Middle East	George S. Schuyler	31
Africa	Susan L.M. Huck	37
Asia	Hilaire du Berrier	51
Scoreboard		64
Free Europe	Frank MacMillan	85
Slave Europe	Medford Evans	105

Dear Reader:

These annual Scoreboards are all very interesting. But how, one asks eventually, could a Communist takeover in Libya or The Sudan or Guinea reduce by one iota the safety of our liberty. After all, we Americans can't police the world.

Maybe not, but America can betray the world. And, if so important an Insider as James Reston is to be believed, that is exactly the purpose to which President Nixon has applied himself. As Mr. Reston put it in his internationally syndicated column for the New York Times of May 21, 1971: "Aside from politics, Nixon would obviously like to preside over the creation of a new world order, and believes he sees an opportunity to do so in the last 20 months of his first term."

Scotty Reston believes it, and is delighted, of course. But is it true? Hilaire du Berrier's report here on President Nixon's campaign to embrace Red China; Dr. Huck's commensurate Guinea for the Communists; Harold Varney's discussion of how President Nixon's vacillation resulted in the sellout to the Communists of Chile, Bolivia, and Peru; and, Professor Medford Evans' commentary on how the Nixon disarmament policy could well result in war in Europe... all these indicate that it is true. That Mr. Nixon is making a bid to head "a new world order." What is more, as Gary Allen illustrates, the President is moving to the Left just as fast here at home.

As it turns out, we Americans don't have to go to Chad or Upper Volta or even Vietnam to stop the Communists. We can do it right here at home. James Reston, who ought to know, says that by the President's calendar we have twenty months to stop the international conspirators or face "a new world order" under Richard Nixon. If that is indeed what Mr. Nixon wants, we can say now that we mean to stop him; just as we know that James Reston of the Times means to help him. But we expect in these next twenty months to help everyone you know. Yours, and your neighbor's, and the help of conspirators are now openly bragging in the New York Times about what they are trying to do within the next twenty months. It is time to see who stands with America and who stands against her. Let Mr. Nixon and the Insiders know that the battle has been joined!

Sincerely,

Scott Stanley Jr.

Editor
ROBERT WELCH
Managing Editor
SCOTT STANLEY, JR.
Associate Editors
THOMAS J. ANDERSON
MEDFORD EVANS
FRANCIS X. GANNON
ROBERT H. MONTGOMERY
E. MERRILL ROOT
Contributing Editors
GARY ALLEN
HILAIRE DU BERRIER
FRANK MACMILLAN
GEORGE S. SCHUYLER
ALAN STANG
HAROLD LORD VARNEY
DAVID O. WOODBURY
Assistant
Managing Editor
MARIAN PROBERT WELCH

Publisher
RICHARD N. OBER
Advertising and Promotion
BRUCE TAYLOR
Circulation Manager
CHARLES G. METZGER, JR.
Editorial
Advisory Committee

The following group of distinguished Americans gives the editor comments and advice which are helpful in determining the editorial policy, contents, and opinions of this magazine. But no responsibility can be attributed to any members of this Committee for any specific articles, items or conclusions which appear in these pages.

K. G. BENTSON
LAURENCE E. BUNKER
F. GANO CHANCE
MARTIN J. CONDON, III
ROBERT B. DRESSER
WM. J. GREDE
CLARENCE MANION
N. FLOYD MCGOWIN
W. B. McMILLAN
LUDWIG VON MISES
ROBERT W. STODDARD
ERNEST G. SWIGERT

AMERICAN OPINION—is published monthly except July by Robert Welch, Inc., 395 Concord Ave., Belmont, Massachusetts 02178 U.S.A. Subscription rates are ten dollars per year in the United States, twelve dollars elsewhere. Copyright 1971 by Robert Welch, Inc. We use almost no articles except those written to order to fit our specific needs, and can assume no responsibility for the return of unsolicited manuscripts.

Second Class Postage Paid at Boston, Massachusetts

AMERICA, 1971

The Politics Of Dollars And Sense

Gary Allen, a graduate of Stanford University and one of the nation's top authorities on civil turmoil and the New Left, is author of Communist Revolution In The Streets - a highly praised and definitive volume on revolutionary tactics and strategies, published by Western Islands. Mr. Allen, a former instructor of both history and English, is active in anti-Communist and other humanitarian causes. Now a film writer, author, and journalist, he is a Contributing Editor to AMERICAN OPINION. Gary Allen is also nationally celebrated as a lecturer.

■ DURING the past twelve months as the world made its annual trek around the sun, most of the earth-shaking stories in America revolved, directly or indirectly, around the thirty-seventh President of the United States. It was during this year that the reign of Richard I, current champion of the Establishment Roundtable, passed the halfway point of his first elected term.

During the year the electronic varlets of the mass media had King Richard's loyal subjects out checking the air for any taint of toxicity, scouring each stream for polluted perch, and plying the highways and byways of the land spearing every wayward O'Henry wrapper. All of which was not only very nice, but one of the slickest political shell games ever promoted. It must have reminded Mr. Nixon of his youthful days as head barker at the Slippery Gulch Rodeo in Prescott, Arizona.

While the new shell game is an electronic affair with solid-state components, it is dedicated to the ancient principle that a dishonest hand is quicker than the eye. While the public is watching the shell marked pollution, the pea is under the one marked socialism.

And there has been one lot of peas under that latter shell in recent years. As Walter Trohan, the Chicago Tribune's sagacious columnist emeritus, noted in that newspaper for October 5, 1970:

It is a known fact that the policies of the government today, whether Republican or Democratic, are closer to the 1932 platform of the Communist Party than they are to either of their own party platforms in that critical year. More than 100 years ago, in 1848 to be exact, Karl Marx promulgated this program for the socialized state in the Communist Manifesto....

One must remember that Marx, the hiring codifier who wrote the Communist Manifesto for a secret society known as the League of Just Men, used the terms Communism and socialism almost interchangeably. Marx said that we could not have Communism until the entire world had been socialized. All Communists were to work for socialism. Even today, Communist spokesmen and official Communist literature say nothing of Communism, but talk only of socialism.

Few Americans profess to believe that Communism is inevitable, but many now claim to see what they say is "the handwriting on the wall" and proclaim the inevitability of socialism. Socialism is no more inevitable than Pharaohism, but it will be inevitable unless more people wake up to how it is being used by a power-

AMERICAN OPINION

An Informal Review / JULY-AUGUST, 1971 / $1.00

SCOREBOARD 1971

Premier Marcello Caetano of Portugal

Pope

