26 | The Truth About Trace Data: Why Isn't Bloomberg Ashamed?

BY CHUCK CANTERBURY, NATIONAL PRESIDENT OF THE FRATERNAL ORDER OF POLICE, AND MICHAEL J. SULLIVAN, ACTING DIRECTOR OF THE BUREAU OF ALCOHOL, TOBACCO, FIREARMS AND EXPLOSIVES
NYC Mayor Michael Bloomberg claims law enforcement officers can't get to firearm trace data. But now that his lies have been exposed by the heads of both the ATF and the Fraternal Order of Police, Bloomberg shows no sign of having the good manners to even be embarrassed.

30 | D.C.'s Gun Ban: Round 2

BY DAVE KOPEL A federal appeals court has refused to rehear the Parker case, likely moving the battle for the Right to Keep and Bear Arms to the U.S. Supreme Court.

32 | Schizomedia

BY JAMES O.E. NORELL, CONTRIBUTING EDITOR

Don't be fooled by legislation touted by the "mainstream" media as a deterrent to terrorism. Drafted by the U.S. Justice Department, s. 1237 would allow any U.S. attorney general to deny any American's firearm rights in secret with no due process.

36 | One on One: Chris W. Cox

BY NRA STAFF A conversation with the head of the NRA Institute for Legislative Action about the dangers gun owners face.

40 | Triggering Thought

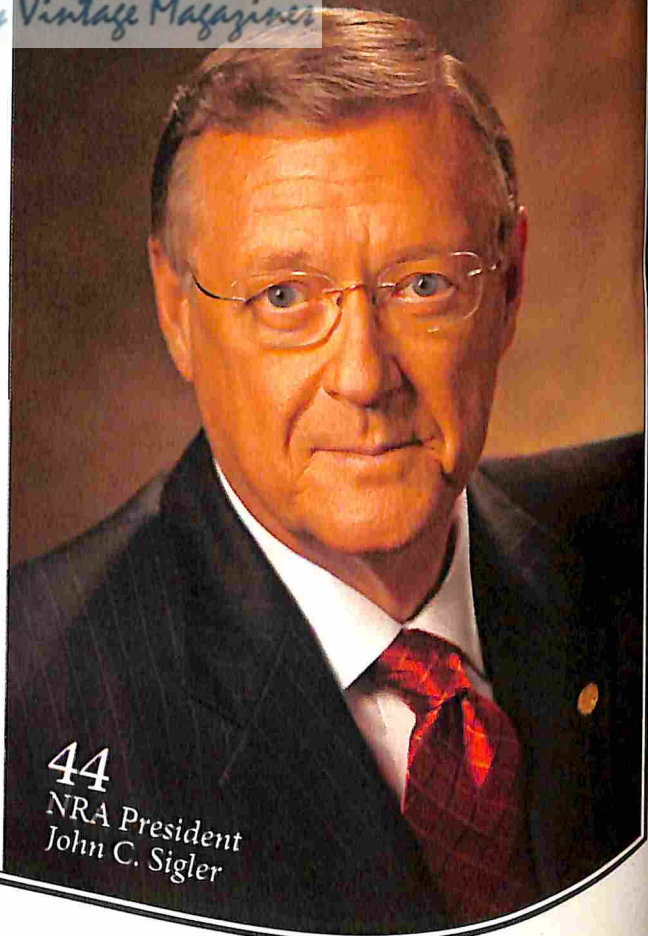

BY BLAINE SMITH, ASSOCIATE EDITOR University of Toledo Professor Brian Patrick is teaching an honors class in American gun policy to 18 of the school's best and brightest, all in an effort to topple towering anti-gun bias in the national media.

44 | NRA President John Sigler: Preserving Our Firearm Freedom for Future Generations

BY TES SALB, MANAGING EDITOR, SHOOTING SPORTS USA
Newly elected NRA President John C. Sigler discusses his hopes and plans for making the National Rifle Association stronger and more relevant than ever before.

The media seem to be of two minds regarding the government's "terror
watch list":

They hate it
when it limits air travel, but love it when it bans gun ownership.
