

Wartime Richmond

Text by EMORY M. THOMAS

Dr. Emory M. Thomas, associate professor of history at the University of Georgia, is the author of this issue. He has to his credit three published works: The Confederacy as a Revolutionary Experience (1971), The Confederate State of Richmond: A Biography of the Capital (1971), and The American War and Peace: 1860-1877 (1973). He is also the author of a forthcoming volume on the Confederacy for the New American Nation series.

Among the sources consulted by Dr. Thomas for this issue, he particularly recommends Rembert Patrick's The Fall of Richmond (1960), Virginius Dabney's Richmond: The History of a City (1976), and his own The Confederate State of Richmond (1971). For contemporary accounts of life in Richmond, Dr. Thomas suggests Ben Ames Williams' edition of Mary Boykin Chesnut's Diary From Dixie (1949) and Bell I. Wiley's edition of Phoebe Yates Pember's A Southern Woman's Story: Life in Confederate Richmond. Including Unpublished Letters Written From the Chimborazo Hospital (1959).
