THE LUTHERAN WITNESS

A magazine for the laypeople of The Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod
MARCH 1993 (ISSN: 0024-757X) Vol. 112, No. 3

FEATURES

3 Genetic Engineering: Serving God . . . or Playing God?

Scientists are peeling back the layers of human genetic makeup. Their work could be used for tremendous good. Or, it could lead to a modern-day Tower of Babel.

7 Four Stars . . . and a New Medal

He's advised presidents, fought wars, and gotten honors galore—including a new medal just months ago. But Gen. John W. Vessey says nothing has been as exciting as helping fellow Lutherans spread the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

8 A Saint for All Seasons

There's a real person behind St. Patrick's Day. He left us an example of faith, humility, courage and zeal for lost souls.

10 'Which Synod Do You Mean?'

Synod Treasurer Norman Sell admits that some of his views may be controversial. But he says he needs to air them while clearing up some misconceptions about how the Synod is organized and funded.

13 A 'Miracle' in Our Midst

It may have been simply a "Lutheran School Friday Night Spaghetti Supper and Talent Show," but it provided a reminder of the good things that Lutheran schools offer.

14 Faith and Life in the Great Outdoors

A week or weekend at a Lutheran camp offers more than fresh air and lovely scenery. But it offers that, too.
