

COMPAQ

For that multimedia application called life.

We design computers for people, so we have to consider the entire range of human expression. The Compaq Presario 1200 and 1600 series were made for those whose pitch vibrates a little higher. Fully integrated, each is flush with features like DisqPlay, a CD system that plays up to 8 hours without booting up. (Because there's more to life than work.) And our PremierSound Audio System, which actually lives up to its name. Plus great video, because let's face it, life looks pretty awesome, too. For more, tune in at www.compaq-at-home.com.
