

contents

features

November 1999 Thanksgiving

142 A Grande Thanksgiving

Houston chef Robert Del Grande proves Thanksgiving isn't about Puritan propriety. Just steam some tamales, roast a Tex-Mex turkey and let the margaritas flow by Molly Glentzer

152 Journey to Cascadia

For many chefs, cooking with local ingredients is an ideal. But for one determined man in Seattle, it's a must—no matter what the ingredient, no matter what the season by Ted Katauskas

158 A Working Lunch at Château Loudenne

After a morning spent picking grapes, the workers at this Bordeaux estate need a hearty meal. And that's what they get, pot-au-feu and all by Jane Sigal

166 The World According to Wente

California's oldest wine family has outlasted everything from Prohibition to white Zinfandel. At a fall dinner, they explain their staying power by David Hochman

172 Sweet Victory

Already a success in Manhattan, baker Melissa Murphy Hagenbart conquers Brooklyn, New York City's latest food scene by Pete Wells

Visit FOOD & WINE on the Web www.foodandwine.com

On the Cover Roasted turkey with cider gravy from our Thanksgiving Guide, page 105.
Photograph by Anna Williams. Food
styling by Rori Spinelli.
Prop styling by Philippa Brathwaite.

November 1999

our 25 best test kitchen recipes

great kitchens
for every budget

U.S. $3.95 CAN. $4.95

#BXBCBFLCAR-RT-SORTC-040

#20WILL 21762 517/96# 3 DEC99 P

FLORENCE I WILLIS 26000 PD
7625 N 1ST ST 177 FAW 1N #

FRESNO

CA 33720-0959

www.foodandwine.com