ON THE COVER

Dillon's original loading machine, the awesome RL-1000, established such a fine reputation among commercial and high-volume handloaders that demand developed for a smaller press better suited to the modest demands and means of the average handloader. Now the RL-300 bids fair to rival the older machine's reputation. Photograph by Ken Howell

Our Best Seller! Pet Loads

Extensive, methodical load information accompanied by a detailed article on each of more than 70 metallic cartridges, from Ken Waters' famous series in Handloader. 8½" x 11" pages in a sturdy five-ring binder, which permits addition of supplement/updates which you can buy semi-annually — making this the only loading manual which can grow. So popular it has gone into its second printing, 418 pages. $29.50
