

THE UNTOUCHABLE

JOHN BANVILLE

Applause for John Banville's novel of the Cambridge spies
* * *
"Contemporary
fiction
gets no better than this!"

—Patrick McGrath,
New York Times Book Review

* * *

"Enthralling"
says ANITA BROOKNER
"Victor Maskell is a thinly disguised Anthony Blunt...a fine creation...Banville has pulled off a marvelous series of tricks."

* * *

"Victor Maskell is one of the great characters
in recent fiction."

—James Hynes,
Washington Post Book World

* * *

"It must by now be an open secret that on this [U.K.] side of the Atlantic Banville is the most intelligent and stylish novelist
at work." —George Steiner,
The Observer, London

In the Hindu Kush, it's fashionable simply to arrive.

If you want to get anywhere in this world, consider the Range Rover 4.0 SE. Its permanent four-wheel drive, all-terrain ABS, and electronic traction control offer you reassurance as you travel the upper echelons of someone else's society. Also, electronic air suspension allows you to raise the Range Rover with the touch of a button and follow the most foreboding trail as if it were more like a welcome mat. AND such amenities as leather seating and a six-disc CD player with eleven speakers make you feel at home. EVEN when you're the farthest you've ever been from it. So why not call 1-800-FINE 4WD for the nearest Land Rover dealer? Or visit our Web site at <http://www.LandRover.com>. At $55,500*, a Range Rover is a bit on the steep side. BUT wherever you go, there's one thing you won't be driving on: pins and needles.

Always use your seatbelts. SRS/airbags alone do not provide sufficient protection.
