24 Stimulus/Response

Where the Black-Matriarchy Theorists Went Wrong by Delores E. Mack

When the question is who rules the roost—husband or wife—important differences are functions of class, not race, the author found by going into homes to learn first-hand with dialogues, questionnaires and role-playing.

ACHIEVING MAN:

35 To Know Why Men Do What They Do

A Conversation with David C. McClelland by T George Harris

"We have to search for the reasons behind the reasons they assign," says the man who found the way to do it. He talks about morals, power, n Ach, parents and children, student radicals, SAT scores, economic growth, violence, totalitarianism, Timothy Leary and businessmen in India.

38 In Quest—A McClelland Sketch

by T George Harris

40 The Power of Positive Drinking

by David C. McClelland

With booze, a person builds up one of two kinds of power; there's personalized power (p Power) which involves thoughts of impact on others—aggressiveness, sexual conquest—and there's socialized power (s Power) which involves altruistic exercise of power on behalf of others.

42 How to Quit Smoking

by Edward Lichtenstein

Aversive conditioning—you smoke and have smoke blown at you until you retch—shows the most promise. The author also tells about hypnosis, behavior mod, group therapy, role-playing and cold turkey.

48 Introverts, Extraverts and Sex

by Hans J. Eysenck

England's most contentious psychologist, working with 800 students, traces correlations between personality and sex—"Extraverts are high on promiscuity and low on nervousness and prudishness... The introvert [puts] stress on virginity and fidelity..."

52 The Cane-Cutters of St. Kitts

by Joel Aronoff

Young Caribbean laborers provide new evidence that man is not a pawn—that he does play some role in the development of his culture.

56 Up

by Edgar F. Borgatta & George W. Bohrnstedt

The world's winners have, in addition to high grade-point averages, strong inclination to compete and to work at jobs that challenge them. It is possible to measure this motivation and separate the winners from the ones who are more interested in being comfortable than in being up.

59 Rock on the Rocks or, Bubblegum, Anybody?

by Irving Louis Horowitz

Rock music is going the way jazz went—up and off into increasingly specialized levels where only sophisticated fans can follow. And, as rock followed jazz, so bubblegum will follow rock. Have you heard Sugar, Sugar?

66 Schizophrenia: Carnival Mirror of Coherence

by Donald Bannister

New light in the darkness where the schizophrenic tries to understand his environment and make predictions about it and fails. Thought disorder.
