The Cars are Modified ... But NOT OILZUM

Don Wolf, Richmond Heights, Ohio
 F MODIFIED — ELVA VII

Ed Walsh, Jr., St. Louis, Missouri
 H MODIFIED — LOTUS — SABB

The only modification of Oilzum Motor Oil we'd ever consider would be something to make it better. And we're mighty careful when we do it . . . even think about doing it.

That's because Oilzum's "track record" right now, and for years, has been good. Drivers like Don Wolf and Ed Walsh want us to keep it that way.

So, however cars are modified, the uniformity, quality and dependability of Oilzum remains constant, so as to meet the increasing demands made of this superior family of lubricants.

Remember . . . you don't have to race to use Oilzum! The full line of Oilzum products in all grades and types, detergent, non-detergent and multigrade . . . plus gear oils and greases . . . are just as beneficial for everyday driving.

But . . . it's good to know that the Oilzum protecting your car has been proven time and again under far tougher conditions than you'll ever experience. The White & Bagley Company, 103 Foster Street, Worcester, Mass.
