

Here again! Old-time brown-sugar

Butterscotch Pudding

Remember that old-time butterscotch pudding, when the big soft flakes of brown sugar used to be blended with real country butter, fresh as buttercups and daisies, and right out of the churn?

Thought you'd never again find that real old, mellow brown-sugary flavor? Cheer up, here it is . . . Jell-O Butterscotch Pudding, made with genuine, moist-rich old-fashioned brown sugar!

Remember how it used to take an hour or so of measuring and mixing and cooking and cooling to make Butterscotch Pudding like that? You can do it with Jell-O Butterscotch Pudding in 8 easy minutes!

New Orleans Pecan Tarts

1 package Jell-O Butterscotch Pudding
2 cups milk 1/4 cup chopped pecans
1/4 cup cream, whipped
1/4 cup pecan halves 6 baked tart shells

Prepare pudding as directed on package. Chill. Fold whipped cream and chopped pecans into chilled pudding. Fill tart shells and garnish with pecan halves.

Try Jell-O Butterscotch Pudding for pie and cake fillings, too . . . and for delicious homemade ice cream!

JELL-O PUDDINGS

Ask for all 3 of Jell-O's rich, made-with-milk Puddings—they're the same low price as Jell-O!
