THE COVER: The AMT Automag II featured this month is the first semi-auto pistol to handle the .22 Win. Mag. Rimfire. Manufactured by Arcadia Machine & Tool, the Automag II is similar to the center-fire Automag in name only; the single-action pistol is blowback-operated and has a 10-round magazine capacity. For a look at this first production .22 WMRF autoloading pistol, see p. 54. Design by John Reid; photo by John R. Lamson.

CAUTION: All technical data in this publication, especially for handloading, reflect the limited experience of individuals using specific tools, products, equipment and components under specific conditions and circumstances not necessarily reported in the article, and over which the National Rifle Association of America (NRA) has no control. The growing popularity of Federal shotshells is causing some pheasants to trade in their wings for running shoes. And who can blame them — Federal shotshells are powerful stuff.

Federal makes a huge assortment of hard-hitting shotshell ammunition for whatever game you're after. So whether you choose our moderately priced Duck &

Pheasant loads or our copper-plated Premium™ brand Hi-Power® loads, you can be assured of one thing — full, dense, deadly patterns.

But don't be surprised if the pheasants respond by keeping a very low profile. You'd probably do the same if you were in their shoes.
