

CONTENTS

12.02

22 3, 2, 1 ... MELTDOWN

In a close playoff game, every second counts. So why can't NFL coaches manage the clock?
BY SETH WICKERSHAM

48 NO FEAR OF REJECTION

For a hoops fan, a blocked shot is a reason to jump out of his seat. For Atlanta's Josh Smith, it's a way to control the game. BY MOLLY KNIGHT

54 YOU HAVE NO IDEA

Is Marvin Harrison a humble, dedicated future Hall of Famer—or is he running a different route?
BY SHAUN ASSAEL AND PETER KEATING

60 WORKING WITHOUT A NET

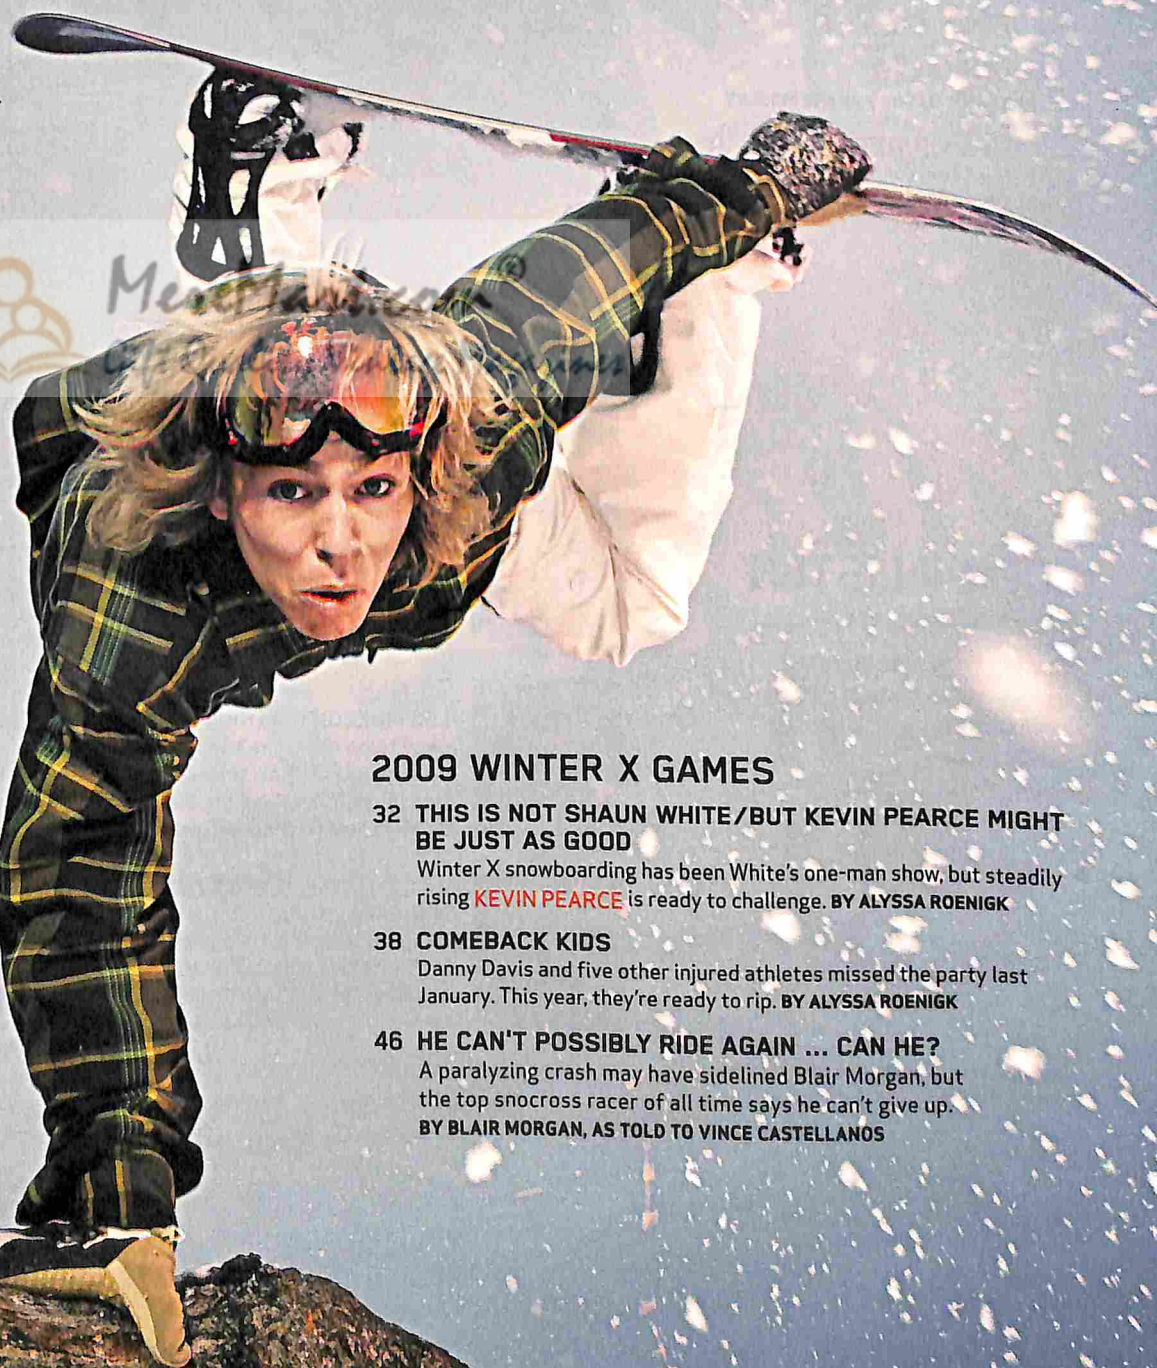

Federer is a long shot for No. 1, a Frenchman may win a Slam and the WTA has a cool new rule. Step right up: The 2009 tennis season is a three-ring circus. BY DAVID HIGDON AND DALE BRAUNER

62 ... THE PUCK STOPS HERE ...

In hockey-mad Montreal, goalie Carey Price has to defend more than just the puck. Take a look at the most pressurized job in sports.
BY LINDSAY BERRA

70 HAVE I GOT A STORY FOR YOU

Dewey Tomko's life is one of $15,000 Nassaus and all-in bets. And almost every word of it is true. BY TIM STRUBY

2009 WINTER X GAMES

32 THIS IS NOT SHAUN WHITE/BUT KEVIN PEARCE MIGHT BE JUST AS GOOD

Winter X snowboarding has been White's one-man show, but steadily rising KEVIN PEARCE is ready to challenge. BY ALYSSA ROENIGK

38 COMEBACK KIDS

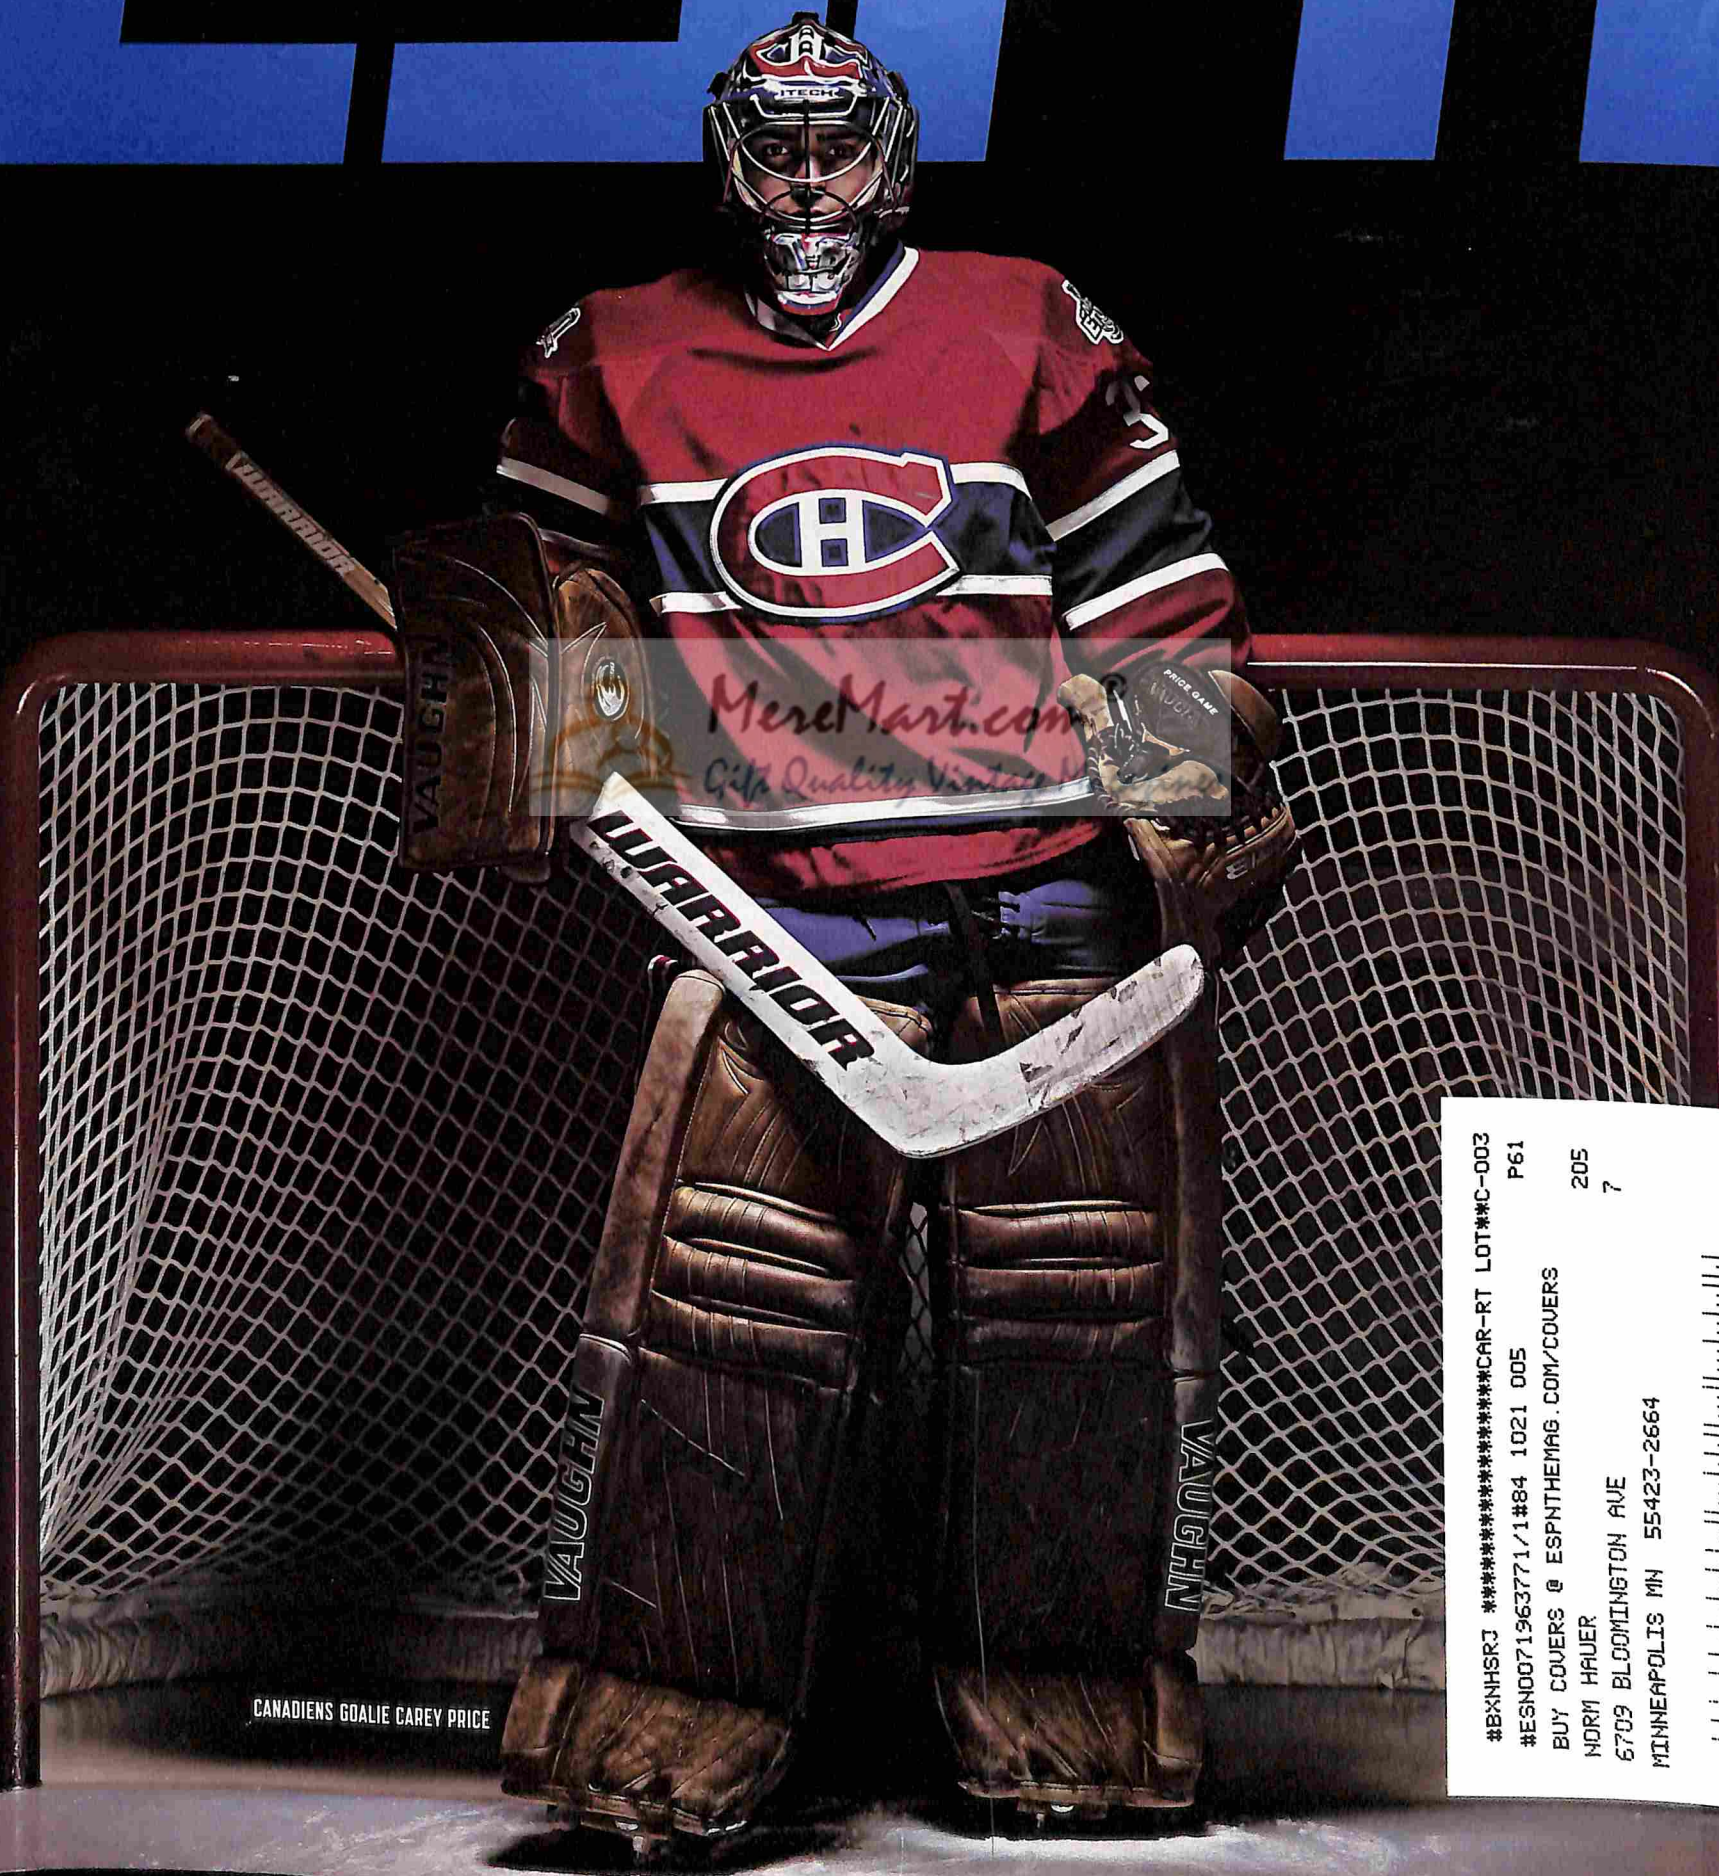

Danny Davis and five other injured athletes missed the party last January. This year, they're ready to rip. BY ALYSSA ROENIGK

46 HE CAN'T POSSIBLY RIDE AGAIN ... CAN HE?

A paralyzing crash may have sidelined Blair Morgan, but the top snocross racer of all time says he can't give up.
BY BLAIR MORGAN, AS TOLD TO VINCE CASTELLANOS

THE LONELIEST MAN IN SPORTS

ESPN

CANADIENS GOALIE CAREY PRICE

#BXNHSRJ CAR-RT LOTC-003

#ESN0071963771/1#84 1021 005 P61

BUY COVERS @ ESPNTHEMAG.COM/COVERS

NORM HAUER 205

6709 BLOOMINGTON AVE 7

MINNEAPOLIS MN 55423-2664

