

50. Luke Mitrani hits the halfpipe at the X Games.

WHAT'S INSIDE?

- 14 HOWARD BRYANT In 1947, baseball proved integration could work. Pro sports needs to do the same with sexual orientation.
- 16 PETER KEATING Introducing "Wins Above All-Star Level"—a new metric to more accurately measure potential Hall of Famers.
- 124 CHRIS JONES Based on his history with the Expos, Marlins owner Jeffrey Loria will not be the savior of Miami baseball.

60 / OFF THE FIELD / BETWEEN THE CRACKS

- 19 TECHNIQUES How does LSU punter Brad Wing kick that thing so far? We asked him to break down his form.
- 20 ZOOM Before Stamkos, Kessel and Co. can put the pucks in the goal, somebody has to make them—all 90,000 of them.
- 22 ZOOM What happens when Blake Griffin gets his Matrix on? You'll have to see the Clippers' team video to find out.
- 26 THE COLLECTION The many plates, rods and screws of motocross rider Brian Deegan, as seen on X-ray.
- 28 THE POLL The real housewives of the NFL give us the inside scoop on what life is really like as a baller's better half.
- 30 REFLECTIONS UNC's John Henson on how he mastered rejections, and athletes on how well the media know their sports.
- 32 SIDELINES One minute with snowboarder Kelly Clark, the Suh stomp—animated—and Coach Marks on backing off the refs.

PLAY / INSIDE THE LINES / AROUND THE GAME

- 35 NFL Yeah, yeah. Graham and Gronk are awesome. But buckle up, because this new breed of tight end is just warming up.
- 38 COLLEGE BASKETBALL Rick Majerus isn't the same scary coach he once was. Ask SLU's Kwamain Mitchell.
- 40 SOCCER From Silva and Messi to Xavi and Neymar, take it from FIFA: Stature doesn't necessarily mean tall.
- 42 NHL Forget Vancouver and Detroit: It's the power pairs in Pitt, Philly, New York and Toronto who've got it going on.
- 44 TENNIS Strong lefties are hard to find in women's tennis, but No. 2 Petra Kvitová's greatness is easy to recognize.
- 50 WINTER X GAMES PREVIEW Flying snowmobiles, snowpipes and triple corks are just a few of the things to marvel at in Aspen.
