

The car racing craze 20

An old zest for going fast becomes fastest-growing U.S. spectator sport. On weekends, thousands see young and old take their lives in their own hands at speeds up to 187 mph.

A GO-KART VICTOR

Strike on Broadway 35

For the first time since 1919, New York's actors were either out on strike or locked out. You can see behind scenes of a Broadway black-out that highlights a long controversy.

ANNE BANCROFT

A jewel of a Julia 47

Julia Meade, who sells everything from cars to cookstoves, is TV's prettiest pitchgirl, and one of the most prosperous, although success has not disturbed her orderly, private life.

JULIA MEADE

National Purpose 98

In Part IV of the series on National Purpose, Clinton Rossiter says goals must be global. John Gardner asks that we work—like some inspired teachers—for excellence.

A TEACHER IN DENVER

The Soviet hinterland 74

In color, we show the remote lands and landmarks of the U.S.S.R.—seascape, parks, cities, nomad areas colonized by the Russians, proud nations who lost their freedom to Moscow.

SIXTH CENTURY CHURCH

COVER

Actress Hayley Mills, a 14-year-old scene-stealer from England, makes the kind of impish face that has established her as a movie star in her own country and now the U.S. (see pp. 12, 13)

THE WEEK'S EVENTS

- Auto racing: a hotted-up U.S. craze 20
A Look at the World's Week 30
The dilemma of Turkey's revolution 32
Fearful earthquake disaster in Chile 32
Farewell in a poet's land: now dead, Boris Pasternak was an eloquent depicter of classic Russian soul 42

EDITORIALS
