

ANDREW
SOLOMON'S
NATIONAL BESTSELLER
The Noonday
Demon

"All encompassing, brave and deeply humane...."

One of those rare volumes that combines powerfully felt personal experience with a tremendous sense of intellectual discovery.... Open-minded, critically informed and poetic at the same time, it is written with far too much élan and elegance ever to become depressing itself....
Fabulously rich, informed by science, literature, moral philosophy and above all by Solomon's determination not to avoid any idea... as long as it brings him and us closer to the truth."

—Richard Bernstein, The New York Times

"Amazingly rich and absorbing."

—William Styron, author of Darkness Visible and Sophie's Choice

"Smart, lucid and intensely moving." —David Gates, Newsweek

"Nothing less than an evolving portrait of who, collectively, we are."

—Sven Birkerts, The New York Observer

"Triumphant."

—David Kipen, San Francisco Chronicle

"When I first heard the words 'breast cancer,' it seemed like the end of the world... five years later, I feel life is just beginning."

— Oni Faida Lampley

This is Oni Faida Lampley, one of two million breast cancer survivors living in the United States. Thanks to early detection and effective medicines, today, the five-year survival rate for women with early-stage tumors is an incredible 97 percent. At America's pharmaceutical companies, we're always working to discover new medicines to fight the disease. Now we have 59 new breast cancer treatments in development. We've come a long way in the fight against breast cancer. But we won't stop till it's beaten. www.newmedicines.org
