SPORTS AFIELD—May 1963

$500.00 IN PRIZES AWARDED EACH MONTH!

How oats make your eggs taste better!

Here are ten $50 prize winning tips in this month's Ancient Age sports idea contest!

MRS. C. A. PETERSEN, PALATINE, ILL.: On trips in high country where feed must be brought for the horses, pack your eggs in the horses' oats. This prevents breakage and takes up very little extra space.

W. GABEL, ROCKFORD, ILL.: To prevent lamp wicks from smoking, soak them in vinegar and let dry thoroughly before using.

G. PIERSON, LONDON, ONTARIO, CAN.: Don't ruin your tent poles by hammering nails to hang up clothes. Instead, bore a hole through the pole and insert a leather thong from which you can hang any number of light articles.

L. MENZ, CHAFFEE, MO.: Fishing rods make excellent cleaning rods for guns when you remove the fishing line guides. The small end works for small bore rifles, the large end handles shotgun bores.

S. WILSON, EAGLE MOUNTAIN, CAL.: When field dressing big-game, smear inside cavity and exposed meat with fresh blood. This makes a film which peels off easily and leaves your meat immaculate when processing for table or freezer.

S. COX, TOLER, KY.: If you have an out-board motor stored, pull the starter cord once each month. This keeps the pistons from sticking and doesn't hurt the motor.

A. WEST, DEWEY, ARIZ.: Take two erasers that slip over the end of a pencil and attach one to each end of a string about three feet long. These make excellent shooter's ear-plugs and can be hung around the neck when not in use.

T. NIGHTINGALE, FAIRBANKS, ALASKA:

To form a more permanent bond between a loose axe handle and head, seal the opening of the axhead with epoxy cement after inserting the wedge. This will prevent the handle from shrinking.

B. McCULLOUGH, DUGWAY, UTAH: When various members of the same hunting party want to split up, separate at a telephone or power pole. These are numbered in sequence so that you can easily find them again later on without losing your way.

F. NIEMIEC, CICERO, ILL.: If you have trouble with a loose thermos cork, wet it and then sprinkle sugar on it. If you do this before inserting, it will stay tight.

DO THESE WINNING TIPS suggest an idea of your own? Each month the distillers of Ancient Age, one of the world's finest Kentucky Bourbons, will pay $50 each for the 10 best tips. Send yours in today to the Ancient Age Idea Exchange Dept. O, P.O. Box 6, Brooklyn 1, New York. Entries must be postmarked no later than midnight, May 31, 1963 to be judged in this month's contest. In case of duplicates, the earliest postmark takes priority. All ideas submitted become the property of Ancient Age Distilling Co., and all decisions of judges are final.

In addition, every contestant will receive a valuable pocket-size copy of the Ancient Age Sportsman's Book, crammed with helpful outdoor hints. Offer not made to minors or residents of states where illegal.

AND HERE'S ANOTHER winning tip from the distillers of Ancient Age. Nothing has been spared to make Ancient Age the greatest bourbon of them all. We invite you to try it tonight.
