20 The SEC Catches On

Just like the rest of the country, the Southeastern Conference has learned that to win you must score big

26 New Deal for an Old Sport

Some people laughed when baseball unveiled the playoffs, but the mini-Series was fun and full of excitement

30 Youth Will Have Its . . . Oops!

The San Diego Chargers beat the young Cincinnati Bengals and taught them to respect their elders

34 Hockey Gets Rougher

A new belligerence grips an already rugged sport as the season opens and the Montreal-Boston war resumes

44 "We Have the Taste of Victory"

So writes Phil Esposito, Boston's scoring champion, in a personal narrative of his rise to stardom

78 Yankee Bread for an Austrian

Jochen Rindt won his first Grand Prix—the world's richest—over a bristling field at Watkins Glen

86 The Game That Was

Pro football wasn't always a game with millions of fans—and dollars. The old pros remember when . . .

Next week

THE EYES OF TEXAS are smack on Oklahoma as the Longhorns and Sooners collide in a battle of top-ranked teams. Dan Jenkins covers one of football's traditional brawls.

THE SERIES AT LAST. In its 100th year and with a new formula, baseball begins its final showdown later than ever. A story about the men who got there, and what they did.

A BUMPER CROP of rookies is flourishing in both pro football leagues. A color portfolio of the most promising and Cal Hill's account of the long jump from Yale to Dallas.
