COVER: Falwell's Fundamentalists are out to remake church and society 48

No longer hovering behind sanctuary walls, doctrinaire U.S. Protestants are zealously at work in communities across the land, agitating over abortion, school prayer, pornography, gay lib and now foreign policy. Their guidebook: a Bible deemed to be error-proof. Their weapons: dynamic leaders like Jerry Falwell, TV, hard cash and a friend in the White House. See RELIGION.

NATION: With an eye on the summit, the U.S. talks tough to the Soviets 12

Washington charges the KGB with using "spy dust" and decides to test a new antisatellite weapon, as superpower relations grow chillier. ▶ Reagan rests up at the ranch and braces for a taxing autumn. ▶ A portrait of a changing U.S.A. ▶ The G.O.P. Senate majority becomes shakier with Laxalt's decision not to run again. ▶ Lotto mania grips New York with get-rich-quick fever.

WORLD: Britain's air disaster raises new fears about plane safety 24

An engine on a Boeing 737 crammed with vacationers explodes on takeoff in Manchester, turning the rear passenger section into an inferno that kills 54. ▶ Twin scandals, one involving espionage, the other sabotage, engulf the governments of West Germany and France. ▶ South Africa's intransigence leaves Washington disappointed and confused. ▶ Assassination in India.
